Foreword

Long after the Class of '63 has departed, the students will be looking back at their momentous days at E. H. S.

The staff has thoughtfully put forth the time and effort to record the many wonderful times that have meant so much to you--the students.

The staff sincerely hopes that this annual will bring to your recollection many fond and tender memories, both now and later.

As an introduction to the book, a sampling of a typical school day is presented to the reader.

Editor

A TYPICAL DAY AT EDISON WE'LL ALWAYS REMEMBER

Students could often be seen stopping to talk to each other about the approaching day's schedule.

It seemed good to be back in school each morning to be "in the swing of things."

Students often stopped in the office for an absentee slip or to discuss a problem with Mr. Georgakis, the assistant principal.

A Typical Day

While standing at the lockers, students conversed about their dates, studies, and the game the preceding night.

Following the silly chatter, school work began in the various classes.

All school pep sessions boosted the school and the team morale.

A Typical Day

The homeroom meetings gave the students responsibility as well as the fun of participation.

Then came the noon break, and the food, that was eaten, might last for ages perhaps.

Dancing at noon was a favorite pastime.

A Typical Day

After the fun ceased, work was resumed in the various classes.

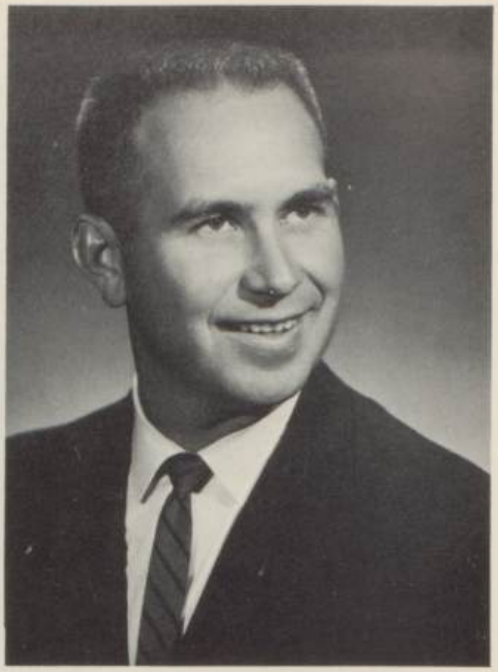
Finally, school was dismissed after a hard day's work, and students were glad but eager for the next day to begin.

Even, after school was dismissed, there was still work to be done. Students still enjoyed the feeling of being together, stressing team and school spirit, working with others as well as still having fun.

DEDICATION

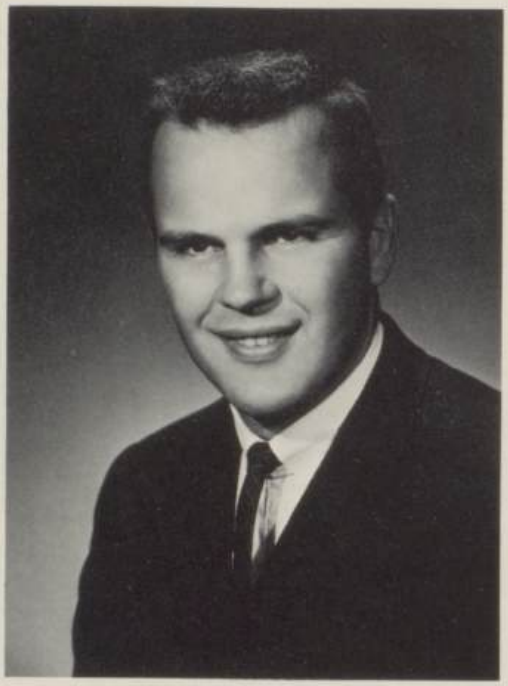
MR. HARTLEY

MR. MUNRO



MR. GUSTAFSON

MR. HALASCHAK



MR. WEBDELL

Dedication

We, the staff, proudly dedicate our 1963 EDISONIAN to you-- Mr. Hartley, Mr. Munro, Mr. Gustafson, Mr. Halaschak, and Mr. Webdell--alumni of Edison Senior High School. Your thoughtfulness, consideration, and patriotism are deeply appreciated in that not as a sense of obligation but of desire, you returned to teach at your alma mater.

We sincerely wish to express our gratitude to all of you for your wonderful attitude, and we hope that this will be an inspiration to us, the Class of '63.

Edisonian

One of the largest extra-curricular projects at Edison is the publication of the annual. The Edisonian Staff spent many hours of their spare time every day of the year working to produce a book of which they could be proud.

This year's staff has added many new and interesting features to the book. The patron's list has been used again instead of an ad section.

The staff is confident that this Edisonian is the finest annual to be published in Edison High and knows that much of the credit is due to the many helpful suggestions of their sponsor, Miss Hartley. The staff would, also, like to thank the supporters of the 1963 Edisonian as well as those responsible for making the publication of this book possible.

Eagle Feathers

According to various opinions of the student body and considering the tremendous expense of a larger printed newspaper, the 1962-1963 Eagle Feathers Staff unanimously decided to return to the familiar, mimeographed newspaper.

Through the combined efforts of every staff member, the interests of every student were taken into consideration; therefore, endeavoring to publish more articles of human interest in addition to the usual news and sports write-ups.

This year's staff members would like to extend their appreciation to those students who took a sincere interest in the newspaper as a whole and to the sponsor, Miss Hartley, for her experienced leadership.

Nancy Moore and Sharon Murota examine closely the cut stencil for errors while Shirley Drummond and Bonnie Mathews check over written articles for the school paper.

Sandra Hodges, Stella Letson, and Kathleen Carnegie operate the mimeograph machine cooperatively to meet the deadline of the paper.

Eagle Feathers

William Ellis and Jimmie Marks, sports editors, discuss the arrangement of the sports for the school paper.

After all of the work has been finished on time or on schedule, the complete issue of the paper is sold by Karen Klempa to Martha Steen.

STUDENT COURT

John Vogel, Sharon Hunter, Court Clerk; David Humenik, Court Judge.

OFFICERS

Student Council

The most active organization in Edison is the Student Council, the law-making body of the school. The Student Council sponsored the Homecoming festivities, a traditional event of the school. The Council was, also, in charge of the set-up of intramurals and the Christmas decorations for the school. Under its governmental body, it set up the hall monitor system, the inspection of the lockers, and the Student Court. With an increasing membership each year, many other functions have been added to this year's duties. The Council has had a very busy year making, deciding, and enforcing the laws by which the students are governed.

OFFICERS

Margaret Kasarda, Vice-President; Bonnie Mathews, Treasurer; Sharon Murota, President; Minnie Rich, Secretary.

Honor Society

The East Gary Chapter of the National Senior Honor Society increased in size to nineteen members this year. Instead of taking just one annual trip, the Honor Society took several trips which included plays and various other interesting activities.

TOP ROW: Joan Quarnstrom, Mary Wahlman, Karen Vorkapich, Margaret Kasarda, Nancy Moore, Chester Cromwell, April Arington, Sharon Murota, Carolinda Carlson, Joyce Keilman. F.T.A.

Five members--Martha Steen, Karen Klempa, Joyce Keilman, Janet McDaniel, and Margaret Kasards--participated in the F.T.A. Round-Up held in Highland. F.T.A. members, also, served as guides during the American Education Week.

The F.T.A. provided a program for its members which gave them an opportunity to explore the field of teaching as a potential career. Films pertaining to teaching, panel discussions given by teachers expressing the view points of a teaching career, and the cadet teaching career gave the members a glimpse of the teaching profession. The F.T.A. visited a nearby college campus as part of the year's activities.

Martha Steen teaches a science class, a requirement of the F.T.A.

OFFICERS

Maria Serrano, Vice-President; Bonnie Mathews, Treasurer; Ruth Ann McBride, President; Ina Jean Courtney, Secretary.

Sunshine Society

The Sunshine Society properly opened this year's events by scheduling a meeting for any high school girl interested in becoming a member. At this time a list of qualifications for membership was passed out, and a brief summerization of S.S.S. was given by the president. The work of the Society began by sponsoring the distribution of food to the needy families at Christmas time. The induction of new members was held on January 13, and soon afterwards the year's projects were well under way. A new project of selecting the best groomed and most appropriately dressed boy and girl of the month was successfully initiated. The Sunshine Society's most anticipated and most outstanding activity of the year was that of the annual Sweetheart Dance held on February 9. The year was at last concluded by a banquet held in honor of the graduating seniors, at which time the forthcoming officers were installed.

Each year the girls in the Sunshine Society prepare baskets for needy families in the area.

OFFICERS

Jimmie Marks, Vice-President; William Reynolds, President; Margaret Sohovich, Secretary; Nancy Gottschling, Treasurer.

Drama Club

This is the second year for the Drama Club, which has several objectives, one of which is to review the history of the drama and its sub-divisions which have served as patterns for the modern drama, another objective is to offer a better opportunity for the student who is interested in speech. The Club meets every other Thursday, and the time may be used as a laboratory. Skits, one-act plays, pantomimes, orations, and the art of make-up for characters are some of the activities carried on during the year. The Club, also, serves as an auxiliary for each dramatic performance given during the year. Various well-known plays are read and discussed as well as poems and literature are often included in this category.

Kathleen Carnegie reads various parts of a skit with some of the members of the Drama Club.

OFFICERS

Joyce Keilman, President; Patricia Barbknecht, Secretary; Christine Bergstrom, Vice-President; William Rosser, Treasurer.

Latin Club

The Latin Club, a relatively new club at Edison, had another very successful year. The installation ceremony, conducted by the second year Latin students, was an evening of enjoyment for all who attended. During the second semester, the organization held its third consecutive Latin Banquet. Last year's Latin II students were honorary guests. The banquet was an event to which the club members looked forward all year, and many of the students made elaborate gowns for the occasion. A Latin atmosphere was created by the traditional costumes, decorations, and food, which was planned by the second year Latin students. Throughout the year, the members were enlightened about the customs of the early Romans.

At the Latin Club banquet, slaves were auctioned off just as they were in the early days of the Romans.

OFFICERS

Karen Mallonee, Secretary; John Babinchak, Vice-President; Gary Hoffman, Sergeant-at-Arms; William Ellis, President; Robert McGuckin, Treasurer.

Physics Club

One of the most sensational dances of the year, the "Roaring Twenties Dance," was sponsored by the Physics Club. This was the third annual dance of its type sponsored by the club. The students made or bought costumes for the event long in advance in hopes that they might win a prize. A trip was taken to the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago to further their knowledge of physics.

The "Roaring Twenties" returned to Edison for a night of dancing.

OFFICERS

Nancy Ryan, Treasurer; Shirley Drummond, President; Geraldine Williams, Secretary; Minnie Rich, Vice-President; Diane Mattingly, Historian; Peggy Eddy, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Homemakers of Tomorrow

The Homemakers of Tomorrow began their year with the election of new officers, which was followed by the annual Initiation Tea on December 2. The Club's first project for the year was a Christmas corsage sale. Small Christmas gifts were collected and donated to a nearby orphanage. In May, a dinner, honoring the senior members, brought the year to a close.

The girls admire the Christmas corsages that they purchased as a money-making project.

OFFICERS

Ina Jean Courtney, President; Carolinda Carlson, Vice-President; Laura Ehlen, Treasurer; Becky Dettweiler, Secretary.

Pep Club

The Pep Club, an organization to build up school spirit, organized a pep block to cheer at home and away from home football and basketball games throughout the seasons. This block has been very enthusiastic the past year and tried successfully to improve school spirit. The Club secured transportation for the students to the games away from home. As one of its projects the club sold buttons with the name of the team for the basketball sectionals.

A pep session where the students have lots of enthusiasm.

The members were kept quite busy making the posters, which were displayed in the halls to support the team.

Loyalty Committee

The Loyalty Committee, which is in close association with the Student Council, had a very successful year. The committee consisted of approximately sixteen members, at least three from each class and a chairman being the Student Council President, all of whom endeavored unrelentlessly to boost and maintain a thriving school spirit. Their main project was making posters to advertise each approaching game and to stimulate interest in these games. They, also, sponsored the selling of ribbons which was another athletic booster. The loyalty and intensive interest toward the athletics of Edison brought about by this committee is deeply appreciated by the faculty, the student body, and particularly by the athletes participating in those games.

OFFICERS

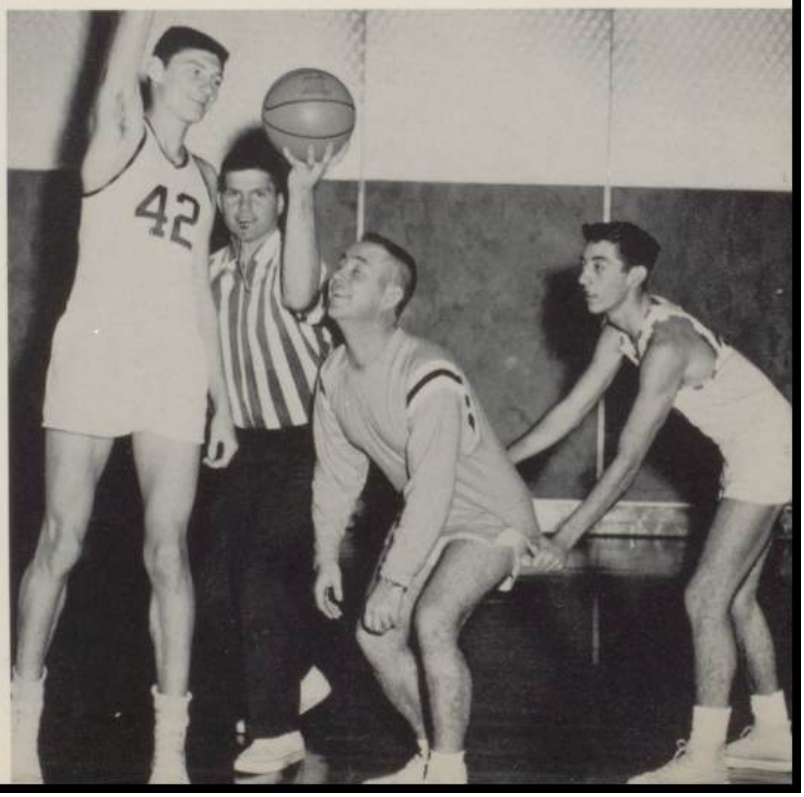
John Vogel, Inactive Chairman; Henrietta Lopez, Active Chairman.

OFFICERS

Samuel May, President; Glen Brechner, Vice-President; Joseph Keyak, Treasurer.

E-Men

Membership in the E-Men's Club is limited to those holding a letter in a major sport: football, basketball, baseball, wrestling, track, or cross country. This year's activities were: Faculty-Student Game, Senior High Faculty-Junior High Faculty Game, a sock hop, the varsity football players attending a professional football game, the basketball team seeing the state finals, and the baseball players going to a professional baseball game.



Those faculty-student games are very spectacular and lots of fun for the spectators.

Having had training in the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades, forty-two students and five twirlers comprised the Band, which performed in three parades including a Labor Day parade in Hobart Township in which they won an award for the best marching unit as well as the pregame and halftime shows at the home football games. The group, also, played on Calumet Township's home field and was an honored guest band at the Field Dedication at River Forest High School. Band Day at Purdue University was a highlight of the year along with some 5,000 band students and 1,500 twirlers. The Pep Band, which was selected from the Band, played at the home basketball games. The Concert Band played three concerts--the Thanksgiving Concert, Christmas Concert, and the Spring Concert. Several members entered the solo and ensemble contest in January, and the entire Band entered the state contest in April. During the year, the Band played for many civic activities.

HOMECOMING FLOATS

For the second time in the history of Edison Senior High School, floats were constructed by each class to arouse the Homecoming spirit. Each class worked very hard on its float as well as a great deal of fun was enjoyed by those who worked on the floats. The float committees will cherish long the memories of bringing their floats through to completion. The finished masterpieces left all of them inspired with awe. They will, also, remember the coke breaks, listening to the radio, and the fun of their classes being united.

The day finally came for the judging. Each one was tense, hoping his class would be the winner. The judges had a difficult time selecting a winner because all were good. It was finally decided that the junior float was the most outstanding.

The juniors chose "Pound the Pirates" with a football player lifting a gigantic hammer to pound the opponent as their theme, which was a very original idea.

"Fly to Victory" was the freshmen's theme, and the float consisted of a huge stuffed football with wings, which was decorated festively with crepe paper.

The sophomores symbolized their theme, "Destination Victory," by a rocket on a launching pad, which was typical of the times.

An attractive float with the theme, "The Treasure Is Ours," was chosen by the seniors and was neatly displayed by a treasure chest with a football inside the chest. The floor of the float was covered with sand, and a swaying palm tree completed the setting.

1962 Homecoming

According to the wishes of all, Friday night, October 12, which was chosen for the 1962 Homecoming, was a beautiful night for the dance and the game.

The evening's festivities began during the halftime intermission at the game. The five candidates for the Homecoming Queen--Constance Jablonski, Shirley Drummond, Kathryn Spencer, Bonnie Mathews, and Ina Jean Courtney--were driven on the field in convertibles. These candidates were selected by the E-Men.

Before the announcement of the Homecoming Queen, the band gave a splendid performance by playing numbers that the young as well as the adults enjoyed; then, they specifically saluted the girls by playing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" while making a heart formation.

After the band's performance, Margaret Sohovich presented individually each candidate as she was driven on to the football field. As the five cars faced Edison's audience, each candidate received a corsage of red carnations from the Student Council president, John Vogel, after which, he announced Kathryn Spencer as the Queen and presented her with a kiss and a bouquet of red roses. The girls were then driven around and off the field.

Spirits were dimmed slightly by the loss of the game to Merrillville with a score of 32-0, but they were brightened again at the Homecoming Dance.

The gym was decorated in yellow, orange, brown, and red, which was typical of the theme, "Autumn Leaves." Terry Chambers and his Rockin' Rebels furnished the music for the night's entertainment.

John Vogel, Student Council president, crowns Kathryn Spencer as the 1962 Homecoming Queen. Her attendants are Ina Jean Courtney, Constance Jablonski, Bonnie Mathews, and Shirley Drummond.

The Queen and her attendants prepare to lead the coronation dance. CHOIR CHRISTMAS DANCE

The annual Christmas Dance, which was sponsored by the Choir, was held at the Canteen on December 15. The Canteen was decorated in red, green, and white, typically portraying the festivity of the Christmas Season. The Renegades furnished the music for the occasion.

QUEEN AND KING CANDIDATES

A girl and boy from each class were chosen to run for the Queen and King of the Christmas Dance. The contestants were seniors--Constance Jablonski and Ronald Gringer; juniors--Merrill Lynn Hanmer and Andrew Halaschak; and sophomores--Sandra Bender and Pete Chapas.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1962-63 basketball season was an average one, as the Eagles won three and lost seven Calumet Conference games; however, with eleven more points for four games the results could have been reversed. The high-light of the season was the winning of the Andrean Tourney.

John Jones and Glen Brechner were chosen as Co-Captains, and John Jones was selected as the most valuable player. John Jones was the second-place scorer in the state and first place scorer in the county; he was selected for the Lake County Tournament All Star Team and the Hammond Times Lake County Team. He set a new individual record for Edison Senior High School, the new gym record of 40 points, and a record for game average for the season as well as establishing records at the following schools: Hobart, River Forest, and Griffith. John Jones set the Calumet Conference record for a total of 296 points; per game average, 29.6; most field goals, 105; and most free throws, 86, which certainly entitled him to a position on the Calumet All Conference Team.
